The case will be heard at 10 a.m. before Judge Gilbert H. Jertberg. Involved is approximately 3,066 acres.

The engineers have already filed a "declaration of taking", and it is expected that the court will rule that immediate possession by the engineers is necessary in the public interest.

The federal government has deposited nearly a million dollars to

Following is a list of names that will be placed on the memorial plaque, also names on which more information is needed. Residents

THE NATIONALLY famous Koshare Indians, the world's foremost interpretative Indian dancers, will appear at the Porterville College football field June 12, at 8 p.m., to present their colorful and authentic Indian dances under sponsorship of the Porterville Methodist Men's club. Actually, the dancers are Boy Scouts from Explorer Post 2230, Rocky Mountain council, of LaJunta, Colorado; they organized in 1949 and prepared for their first winter festival, and since, have traveled throughout the nation, presenting more than one thousand performances. Their authentic dances have resulted from concentrated study of archeology and anthropology of the Southwest Pueblo Indians; they have reproduced the dances, costumes and atmosphere of the Indians who built the great Kivas a thousand years ago at Aztec and Chaco canyon in New Mexico. The Koshare Indians have been featured in Time magazine, and other national publications, and in motion picture shorts. Proceeds from the unusual and colorful show will be used by the Methodist Men's group for Boy Scout, and other youth activities. Adult admission is $1.00; children under 14 years, 50 cents.

THE GOOD news that she was Tuesday's Silver Bonus winner, is received by Mrs. Artie Lee Beeler, left, of Springville, from Jarvis Wheeler, right, of the Wheeler Furniture company, however, since she did not have a Tuesday sales slip from a Silver Bonus store, Mrs. Beeler missed on the bonus but received $5.00. Which puts $105.00 in the Silver Bonus pot for next Tuesday. Better shop Silver Bonus stores in Porterville, Tuesday; you might be a winner. (Farm Tribune photo)

THE PRESSURE IS ON

The unfortunate, but usual situation, in which "the people" have to fight representatives of their own government when a federal project moves in, is becoming apparent in the Success area.

In talking with people whose land is involved in the Success project, we find that some of their complaints are:

1. Different representatives of the army engineers — land appraisers and others — tell different stories.

2. So far, we are told, ranchers in the area cannot find out what happens to their riparian water rights — will the federal government buy them; will the ranchers lose them if the river is moved away from their land?

3. They have no answers on what sort of compensation will be forthcoming if ditch rights are disturbed, or if sources of water are destroyed for land that is not actually taken for the project.

4. No policy has been stated as to who will get first right to rent or lease land that is not actually covered by water, or reservoir basin land that water does not cover in dry years.

5. Appraisers will not tell land owners the methods and reasoning used in making land value appraisals.

6. Property owners have been forced to hire their own appraisers and attorneys to protect their interests against their own government.

These are some of the troubles that property owners are running into in the Success area.

In short, the pressure is on. Instead of the army engineers coming in, laying their cards on the table, answering the logical questions of property owners and attempting to work out solutions on a basis of common sense and a friendly attitude, they use the tactics of big government — delays, indefinite and inconsistent answers to questions, while at the same time moving ahead with the project and thereby putting more and more pressure on property owners to concede to their desires.

We have heard representatives of the army engineers, on several occasions, speak in general terms about problems involved in the Success dam project.

It is time that someone with sufficient authority comes in with specific answers to the specific questions that are troubling property owners in the Success dam and reservoir area.

craft on initial starting, and an F-86 jet.

Coordinated with the Fly-In are plans for dedication to the new Rockwell Manufacturing company plant on Saturday, June 8. A free barbecue will be served at the Rockwell plant north of Porterville at noon, with buses, furnished by Rockwell, to take visiting fliers between the municipal airport and the plant.

Other transportation between the airport and the city of Porterville will be provided by Porterville car dealers, with Porterville junior chamber of commerce members as drivers.

Saturday night at the airport, free food will be served to visitors, and later in the evening, entertainment and dancing is planned. Music for dancing will be provided by Buck Shaffer and his Studio band; master of ceremonies for the entertainment program will be Ann Davis, Schultzie, of the Bob Cummings TV show.

Officially presiding over the event will be Miss Claudia Slack, of Exeter, who is this year's Miss Tulare County and who has been also named Miss Moonlight Flight.

Admission charge, including supper, will be made at the gate Saturday for visitors, other than fliers, to offset expenses of the Fly-In.

Sunday program will feature pilot contests and aerial demonstrations, and prizes will be given to the oldest visiting pilot, the youngest pilot, the largest organized group attending, for the oldest plane, to the pilot coming the furthest distances and for other special designations.

Elynor Rudnick, of Bakersfield, owner of Kern-Copters and the only woman in the world who operates helicopters commercially, will bring one of her 'copters to the field Sunday; plane rides over Porterville will be sold throughout the two days and evenings.

Civil Aeronautics Authority will operate a mobile control tower on the field over the weekend, with Clyde Boughton in charge, assisted by George Reed.

Displays of executive-type, and other types of private planes will be shown on the field, as well as experimental planes, home-made planes, and an antique that is powered by a motor of 1919 vintage.

Last year, 702 aircraft landed at the Porterville airport during the Fly-In, with a 23-hour operations record established for a single field in the nation. Planes were landing or taking off at peak of operations every 40 seconds.

Hotels and motels are already filled for the June 8-9 weekend; expectations are for another record-breaking crowd.

Out-of-state licenses everywhere tell of the great influx of new people along the avenue — scarcely an hour passes that information-hungry travelers don't stop and ask for more information about this area — Paul T. Tinsley of Stout Realty, with their national coverage tells me he would like to have more listings of property to satisfy the many inquiries.

Things adding: "Andy" Anderson of Valley Welders installing sprinkler system in front of Memorial auditorium; John Daybell to stick in the green stuff that needs the water; workmen busy leveling off spot for new H. S. library and study hall — new Sierra View Hospital walls going up on schedule — "drop a quarter in" ice plant behind Smith's Market — and who laid out that "hit a fender" new parking lot back there? — wonder if Howard Smith has insurance coverage for dented Graucho Marks fenders — and finally, Bob and Marty's CHUCK-WAGON will open Friday, everything works, including the ice machine, and Sam Leavers' very latest juke boxes The Seeburg.

And then: I met Paul Stephens, Steve's Market, celebrating his first prosperous year in business on the avenue; Paul has three swell kids; Roy goes to J. C. and Gerald and Sharon to P.U.H.S. — the rear end of Slim Pritchett's used car lot was washed away by the turbulent Tule stampede last week — H. S. Kanthack, Chevron Service, tells me one of his ancestors was a slave trader.

Did you know that: Vern's Specialty automotive uses a new type oscilloscope to LOOK at your car trouble — that the juke number

OUR TOWN

Gardner (Bud) Wheeler

WE RECENTLY PASSED the fire house in our town where firemen normally while away the happy hours polishing the red paint or uncoiling and coiling hoses, while waiting for someone to burn a pie and send up a smoke signal. Much to our amazement, there were dogs scattered all over the driveway and even into the street. At first, we thought it was the catch-weight fighting championship for the dogdom of Porterville, but closer scrutiny showed that each dog was leading a human around on the leash.

HUMANS ARE NOTORIOUS for discouraging such matches, so there was obviously another reason for the assembly. It turned out to be N-Day for the local canines. Loosely translated, this means needle day with the rabies control officials acting as masters of ceremonies. There was a time in our town when notices would appear in the papers stating that all loose dogs would be shot on sight, as possible health menace and rabies carriers. This was all very upsetting to pet owners and to the local gendarmes who were supposed to carry out the threat. The dogs really didn't mind, because they couldn't read anyway.

NOW WE ARE MORE humane, and don't threaten the owners and upset the constabulary. We merely needle the dogs as a prerequisite for getting a shiny, new dog tag. These modern methods reassure the dogs that it's still a "dog's life."

"40 Cups of Coffee" at Pete's Chili Pup is played and drank by the workmen on the Purity construction job — that the S.P. passenger depot used to be south of Olive?

An ode to Tom White: One day as I sat musing, sad and lonely and without a friend, a voice came to me out of the gloom saying, "Cheer up, things could be worse." So I cheered up and sure enough, things got worse!

Let Hillcrest Kennels give your dog the loving care he wants and needs while you are away. Travel relaxed, and know that your pet is in trained and capable hands.

News Of The SPRINGVILLE COMMUNITY

By WINNIE GAGE

Mrs. Hoyt Harper and daughter, Patty, of Dill, Okla., are visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Gardner, and were also Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gardner.

Mrs. Ethel Rush is visiting her son and daughter and family in Bakersfield and Buttonwillow this week.

Springville P.T.A. held its annual election on May 21 in the Friendship Hall of Community Methodist Church.

1957 Officers elected were for president, Willard Bayless, replacing Mrs. Mary Jane Choate; Mrs. Virginia Moore, vice president, replacing Mrs. Jean Stancliff; Mrs. Ruth Gordon, secretary, replacing Mrs. James Everding; Dennis Biggs, treasurer, replacing Mrs. Bonnie Gardner; Mrs. Jean Stancliff, historian, replacing Mrs. Gladys Gill; Ted Stancliff, parliamentarian, replacing Joe Ainsworth and for auditor, Joe Ainsworth replacing Ted Stancliff.

The P.T.A. presented a set of World Book encyclopedias to Springville school.

The new officers will be installed at their first meeting in September.

Mr. W. L. Myers was honored guest at a birthday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Opple on Sunday. It was Mr. Myers 90th birthday, and others at the dinner were his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Jackson of Porterville and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hatton of North Hollywood.

Thirty members and families attended the meeting of Hounds-men Association last Friday evening in Memorial building after a short business meeting, coffee and doughnuts were served to the group by Mrs. Kate Wells of Three Rivers, Mrs. Hazel Connors of Porterville, Mrs. Chrallie Henson and Mrs. Winnie Gage of Springville.

The group voted to hold a field trial on June 30 at the Buckhorn ranch on Bear Creek road.

Mr. and Mrs. James Everding were in Carmel for four days last week and on Sunday attended the Delmonte Kennel Dog Show and their German police dog, Acros Saint, won second place in the breed by exhibitors' class.

DOYLE COLONY

By George A. Heints

Eighty-three years ago the Tule River Indians were moved from this area to their present location some 18 miles east of here up the South Fork of the Tule — Last Sunday, Bob Santos, chairman of the Indian council and recent Forest Service appointee, told me there are now only 301 members of the group left, less than half of them living on the Reservation — today there are some 3,500 "foreigners" living on their former reservation — Doyle Colony — vanishing Americans?

New stuff: W. F. Brown from Visalia has purchased the Montgomery property and Beacon Service on East Date; with assistance from Mrs. Brown and son, Ralph, they are really doing a remodeling and clean-up job of the property — welcome to our Colony folks! Construction of Lee's new grocery store, at Leggett and Sycamore, is moving right along — actually saw a county road crew put a couple shovels full of dirt into chuck holes on Leggett Drive!

I noticed: The Stief family staked tomatoes next to Hillcrest cemetery all in bloom on Memorial day.

I heard: dogs barking at Lasure's Hillcrest Kennels — Mules braying at Morrison's Mule ranch on Sycamore and pigs squealing in Moorehead's slaughter house, while Walter Bellah was running the buzz saw next door, making shingles!

Solitude: Was up to prospector Kenny McDarmant's "mile high" ranch — sez Kenny, we got everything here — no telephone — no radio — no TV —!

We hope: "the powers that be"

don't let the beautiful lawn around Doyle school "go to pot" during the summer months.

You are an ole timer if you remember when: John Purnell and Jim Vincent was a butchering on Main Street.

Itchy: Hal Roeth tells me the TV programs are getting so lousy lately, he's about to be taking his family to see the 'Seven Year Itch' at The Barn Theater.

IF YOU LISTEN carefully to radio commercials on medicinal agents, you will find that they suggest much but promise little. The glib announcement will tell you that such and such a product can, may, or should help do this or that, but it will never say it will. Notice, also, the newspaper insertions on hair restorers, flesh reducers, and the like. Many of them will bear the statement, "Never sold by mail." Why? We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

WE PEOPLE of Tulare county are fortunate to have a man of Senator J. Howard Williams' calibre representing us in the state legislature, for now, in the closing days of the session, when the pressure is really on, Senator Williams is one of the important, key men in Sacramento.

AS A member of the free conference committee that is working out a compromise between the state Assembly and state Senate version of the state budget, he is one of six men in whose hands rests final shaping of the budget — and as a member of the Senate finance committee, he has played a highly important part in development of the budget.

PEOPLE OF Tulare county should be grateful to Senator Williams for his efforts in connection with equalization of assessed values in counties of the state by the state board of equalization. In this highly controversial field, a bill by Senator Williams has passed the Senate — and it is the only active bill left in the legislature on the subject — that places a three-year moratorium on action of the board of equalization in regard to equalizing assessments. You will recall that last year it was the state board that tried to ram an assessment increase down our throats here in Tulare county. And along with the bill is a Senate Concurrent resolution, introduced by Senator Williams, that provides for a study by experts not connected with state, or county, governments concerning the entire problem of assessment equalization; a study that may result in future legislation to protect counties from arbitrary action by the state board of equalization.

AND AS chairman of the Water Resources committee, Senator Williams is a key man in the current state water fight — perhaps a discouraging position to be in at the moment, but certainly a spot in which sound and sensible reasoning is necessary.

IT IS men like Senator Williams who provide a balance wheel of common sense that offsets some of the screwball legislation that invariably turns up in legislative sessions.

FISHIN'

By Slim Washburn

Water was high on the Tule river watershed for the last weekend, but bait fishing was very good. Not many fishermen were on the streams, however, and as planting has been moving on schedule, plenty of fish were left.

Planting will continue this week, and with lower, clearer water, fishing on the Tule should be at its best for the holiday and the weekend.

The stream is well-stocked from Camp Nelson and Camp Wishon downstream to Springville. No higher country plantings as yet, and no planting on the North Fork, as the road to Jack Flats has not been opened for the season yet.

Pack stations at Quaking Aspen are open, and fishing on Big and Little Kern rivers should be good.

cover estimated cost of land that will be used. The case Monday involves possession of land, not price; land owners have additional time to negotiate on final price to be paid for land involved.

Concerning the immediate possession action, all property owners involved in the dam and reservoir area have been filed against.

The state of California is now securing road rights-of-way for relocation of highway 190. General attitude of property owners involved in this action seems to be favorable, in so far as land prices are concerned; on the other hand, few if any land owners appear to be satisfied with preliminary action taken by the army engineers.

Meanwhile, low bid for relocation of highway 190. General struction of Success dam has been filed by the Green Construction company of Des Moines, Iowa at $6,539,934. Work on the dam is expected to start within the next few days.

Something new at the Porterville chamber of commerce — the tile roof should be in place when you read this; in the work crew — directors of the chamber, assisted by building contractors A. K. Hodgson and Emory Kincaid.

Speaking of the chamber of commerce — report is that considerable interest is being shown in the August plane trip to the Hawaiian island; better check with Manager Allan Coates on details — it's a good deal.

Richard Harrison Moore Memorial Carillon was dedicated Sunday afternoon during a special service at the First Congregational church.

Safe stolen last week from the Porterville municipal golf course has been found on Worth road east of the state hospital; missing — $998 in cash and checks.

Two big booms along the avenue this week — Monday a sonic blast as some pilot broke the sound barrier; Tuesday the experimental atomic blast in Nevada.

With summer finally arriving, record-breaking weekend crowd used the Porterville municipal swimming pool — 500 on Saturday, 870 on Sunday.

Service pins were this week awarded to four Spalding Lumber staff men in Porterville: Don Daley, five years; Floyd Robbins,
